LIBERTY BOND NEWS OF INTEREST TO YOU

Washington, Oct. 4.—Close on the heels of Iowa, Oregon today went over her Fourth Liberty Loan quota by at least 30 per cent., Edward Pookingham, Oregon's state chairman, telegraphed this morning from Portland.

Three hundred fifty million dollars will have to be subscribed each day for the remainder of the campaign to reach the minimum of six billion dollars. The country is running approximately 50 per cent. behind its subscription. The gain in the last 24 hours in subscriptions has been less than $200,000,000. One encouraging feature of the campaign, however, is that according to reports the bonds are being more widely distributed than in previous campaigns. More $50 bonds than $100 bonds are being subscribed for.

The patriotic little town of Bigler, subscribed for.

which has been in the forefront of every war movement since hostilities began, went over the top with a vengeance in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Bigler's quota was allotted, a meeting scheduled and the campaign started. The meeting was due to be held last evening and desiring to make a proper showing the soliciting committee got busy in advance of the time. The following hustlers made up this committee: Mrs. Jesse Waple, Miss Guy Thompson, Mrs. Ashley Knepp, and Miss Olive Forney. So well did they conduct their campaign that bonds totaling more than the amount of their allotment were disposed of before the meeting was called to order.

The speakers for the meeting were H. B. Powell and W. J. Swoope, Esq., of Clearfield, and following their splendid efforts additional bonds were disposed of.

Delightful music was furnished by the Bigler choir, Miss Esther Woomer presiding at the organ.

The Lee Garage company and their force of employees aligned themselves with the 100 per cent. boys in the Fourth Liberty Loan, every person about the works subscribing for a bond.

At Ansonville last evening as a result of a fine meeting $5150 worth of bonds were sold. Private Devoe, one of Pershing's motor cycle dispatch bearers and First Class Seaman Martin who was on a boat torpedoed by one of the Kaiser's sea snakes were in attendance at this meeting. Private Devoe spoke briefly. The other speakers were Hon. J. Frank Snyder, H. S. Whitman, Jr., and Hon. Joseph E. Phillips.

Glen Hope people purchased bonds to the amount of $4100 at a meeting addressed by Fred G. Betts and A. E. Woodward last evening.

L. C. Norris and John C. Arnold, Esq., were the speakers at a Liberty Loan meeting at Ladose last evening at which $5200 worth of bonds were subscribed for. Kewaydin patriots were addressed by Rev. Dr. Hartman of Trinity church and County Chairman W. H. Callahan. Bonds to the amount of $2300 were sold.

Down at Bald Hill J. P. O'Laughlin and Roy Fulton addressed a large and enthusiastic gathering and as a result thereof their total subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan is now something over $6000 and the returns are not all in yet.

Lumber City rallied to the colors last evening and after listening attentively to addresses by John M. Bain and Captain Reed added $1500 to the $5000 worth of bonds already sold and promise to largely exceed those figures before the campaign closes.

POPULAR OSCEOLA YOUNG MAN LOSES LIFE

Osceola Mills, Oct. 4.—The community was shocked this morning when it became known that Leo Kenna son of the late James Kenna was killed in a railroad wreck at Goss Run at an early hour this morning. The young man was a great favorite among his friends here. His father was one of the typhoid victims when that disease took a number of our people two years ago. His mother has recently recovered from a serious operation at the McGirk sanitarium for appendicitis. He was about 22 years of age. He is survived by one brother James Jr., and two sisters Catherine and Mary.

105,000 CASES OF INFLUENZA AMONG THE SOLDIERS

Deaths have occurred at the rate of 1 in every 27 patients according to uncial estimates. Federal and local health authorities are doing everything in their power to check the spread of the disease.

ITALY DRAFTS INTERNATIONAL RULES FOR AIRCRAFT

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Sept. 9. (By Mail).—The Italian government has just completed the draft of a series of laws covering aerial navigation.

The proposed statute is the result of over a year of study by a government commission and the law as now completed ready to be submitted to the Italian parliament consists of 41 articles. This is the first project of the kind that any government has perfected, and indicates the initiative Italy expects to take in aerial transportation following the war.

In a general way the new aerial law is similar to those governing sea navigation. For the present the law is for application in Italy alone, but it is expected to serve later as a basis for similar laws in other European countries and finally as the foundation for international laws governing aerial navigation, which must inevitably follow with the development of this means of transportation.

All Are Aeromobiles

The new Italian law fixes, first of all, the technical names to be used in designating the more important aspects of aerial navigation. All aircraft, whether airplanes or dirigibles, will be known under the general name of aeromobiles. Aerial ports will be the name applied to the regular places for landing and departing, while refuge ports will be the name applied to those landing place where the aerial craft can put in in case of accident.

The law provides that regular aerial ports are to be equipped with very much the same facilities as are to be found in any great sea port for the landing, unloading, repairing, and taking on of cargoes.

Special articles provide for what an aeromobile must do if it is obliged to land in other than a regular or refuge aerial port.

Special provisions govern the zones of altitude in which the aeromobiles must navigate to prevent collisions and other accidents.

The proposition to limit the height at which the aeromobiles might navigate in order to render more easy their surveillance from the ground, was stricken out, and no limit was placed on the altitude of flight.

Must Avoid Force

On the other hand, for reasons of national defense, there is an article prohibiting aeromobiles from flying over forts and other military and naval defenses.

The proposed laws would prohibit transportation by aeromobiles of inflammable matter, explosives and other kinds of merchandise that might endanger the aircraft and other property in case of accident.

Other articles provide that all aeromobiles must be registered in the national registry of aircraft; that each aeromobile must have a government certificate of its navigability; that there must be officers of recognized competence aboard; and that each aircraft must carry certain official documents.

The proposed code in all probability will be made law at the coming session of parliament.

OLDER MEN WILL GET CHANCE TO GO

Washington, Oct. 4.—Interest in the draft is now focused upon the probable future calls to the colors of the September 12 registrants.

In view of the exceptional speed with which the work of classification of the Class One of the 19 to 36 group is being conducted by the local boards it is not unlikely that this class will be exhausted much sooner than expected.

It may be stated that the registrants within the older age groups will be called upon in order to furnish General Pershing with the very best material within the 18 to 45 years for the fighting force of 4,000,000 which the nation has pledged to have in France by next July.

Army specialists are making great headway. Reports from Washington today showed that approximately 105,000 cases are reported in the army camps.

STATE HEALTH BOARD ORDERS THE CLOSING OF THEATRES & SALOONS

WHAT IT MEANS

Dr. John W. Gordon, County Health Officer for Clearfield County, in telephone conversation with the State Health Authorities at Harrisburg this afternoon, learned that no other orders than those published in the newspapers of this day are considered by the Health Department to be necessary. According to the order, the Health Department expects all amusement places, saloons, public entertainments and gatherings of any kind to be closed until further notice. The schools alone are excepted and the closing of them is left to the discretion of the local school board. The order is state wide and applies to Sunday schools, churches and all public meeting or amusement places.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH OFFICIAL WARNING CONCERNING INFLUENZA

SALOONS AND THEATRES OF STATE MUST CLOSE

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—Doctor B. F. Royer, state commissioner of health, tonight handed down an order closing all places of public amusement and every saloon in Pennsylvania because of the epidemic of influenza. It is the most sweeping health order ever issued.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—The most sweeping order ever issued by the Philadelphia board of health was decided upon today in an effort to check the spread of influenza.

All churches, schools, theatres, motion, concert halls, etc., were ordered closed.

From: Acting Commission of Health To: Boards of Health of Penna. Subject: Influenza.

Influenza is apparently rapidly becoming epidemic in the eastern part of the United States. It is imperative that Health Authorities be prepared to cope with this epidemic, that they shall be prepared to issue advice concerning preventive measures that may be helpful in averting serious outbreaks of the disease, and that they now prepare to render relief even before the disease becomes epidemic.

This disease, which is apparently the same type of influenza that swept over America in 1889 and 1890, is sudden in onset and is characterized by fever from 101 to 104 degrees, chilliness, headache, and pain in widely distributed areas; pneumonia and nephritis being common and dangerous complications. Mild cases may run a course of from three days to a week. A large proportion of cases are severely prostrated and in addition to an annoying bronchitis may develop fatal pneumonia. Abscesses may occur in ears, tonsils or lungs. Depressing nervous manifestations may continue for some time in convalescence and vitality may be greatly lowered to other disease processes.

Your citizens should now and until the epidemic wave has entirely subsided be urged to practice every care in the way of personal and domestic hygiene; to secure clean, wholesome food of considerable variety; to watch the organs of elimination and avoid constipation, at least one free movement of the bowels should be obtained daily. They should be especially urged to keep in the fresh air as much as possible, night and day, and to avoid spending time in crowded places of entertainment or diversion. Especial attention should be called to the dangers of travel in crowded trolleys or railway cars and to overcrowded living conditions. It would be well to urge wide open windows, throwing up of shades and removal of awnings, and of utilizing the best of all air purification, sunshine.

It would be well to urge upon your citizens the avoidance of fatigue of every sort, as nothing lowers resistance to this disease as much as fatigue. Urge regularity of meals, regularity of habits and avoidance of dissipation and especially alcoholic dissipation. As a means of prevention, call attention in posters, in circulars and in newspaper articles to the need of care when early symptoms develop resembling "colds," and insist that all such persons remain as nearly as possible on their own premises. Those convalescent should be urged to remain on their own premises for at least a week after fever subsides and longer when cough persists. Should the disease become unduly prevalent in your community, all places where persons congregate in numbers should be closed. Probably the public schools may need to be closed in some communities later, but for the present the consensus of medical public health opinion would be that children in well ventilated school rooms are reasonably safe, certainly much safer than in moving picture halls and other places badly ventilated.

Influenza is spread by infectious particles thrown off while coughing and sneezing. Probably nothing would better fix the attention to the need of covering the mouth and nose with a handkerchief when coughing and sneezing would better fix the attention of your citizens upon the danger of infection from the droplets of moisture thrown off while coughing and sneezing than for you now to enforce the anti-spitting act. A few arrests made each week of persons spitting on sidewalks, railway platforms, in railway carriages or other public places would fix attention of your citizens upon this sort of care in a way that would offer protection against respiratory diseases now and in the future. We, therefore, strongly urge that such examples be made now.

Many communities believe it to be of great advantage to have influenza made reportable. Should you take such action probably it would be well to place in the hands of every adult having the disease and in the hands of parents of children having the disease, a circular of instructions, urging destruction of sputum during the height of the disease and for a week of convalescence, of its collection in kerchiefs or sputum cups by ambulatory cases and to place such individuals on their honor to remain away from public gatherings for a full week after fever subsides.

Doctors and nurses may protect themselves by masking the patient with gauze or a towel when working about the sick just as we always do in making careful examination of the tuberculous. All attendants and visitors should carefully cleanse hands with soap and water and all bed linen and utensils should be disinfected frequently by boiling.

It would be well to make a survey of hospital facilities available in case of an epidemic or to select suitable buildings for an emergency hospital. It is advisable to make provision where possible for isolation of cases and for special stalls made by stringing wires and hanging sheets in large wards.

With any undue prevalence of the disease in your community kindly advise this Department by telegraph or telephone.

This note is issued after conference with the Advisory Board of the Department of Health.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—All saloons in Pittsburgh closed at ten o'clock and theatres were ordered not to open until the State health authorities order issued with a view of ending the Spanish influenza epidemic in Pennsylvania has been lifted or revoked. There are indications that the city officials will make every effort to have the order modified as there is no Spanish influenza here and officials believe that the order as affecting this city is unnecessary. Officials in charge of the Liberty Loan in western Pennsylvania declare that the closing order will likely have a bad effect upon the campaign.

THOUSANDS VISITED TROPHIES TRAIN THIS MORNING

Just 2305 Clearfield people visited the War Trophies train which spent two hours in Clearfield this morning under the auspices of the Fourth Liberty Loan Committee. The train has a schedule of 184 towns and cities to visit during its three weeks itinerary and of course its stay at any one point is necessarily quite limited. The hours fixed for Clearfield were from 6 to 8 a. m. and of course our patriotic citizens were forced to forego "forty winks" in order to be on hand to view the modern implements of warfare.

Those in charge of the train were a few minutes late in getting it open, due to the fact that they were pretty well fagged out after the strenuous race they have been hitting this week. One of the soldier guards said while war was all and more than Sherman said it was, old William Tecumseh had never traveled with an outfit on a mission such as this or he would have added something to his observations.

The doors were opened about 6:30 and from that time until 8:15 the cars were thronged with visitors.

County Chairman Hobart Callahan of the Liberty Loan Committee was on hand and assisted in getting everybody through in proper style, while John M. Bain, of the Local Selective Service Board, opened the speech-making and held the crowd until the soldier orators could get into action. This end of the outfit was in charge of Geo. L. MacNulty, a schoolmate of President Wilson, who has two sons in France.

Addresses were made by Private Hopkins, a Philadelphian, who saw service in France with the Canadian forces.

Private Rudy, one of Pershing's veterans, also told some interesting personal experiences while advocating the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

Lt. Devilli, a French hero, also addressed the assemblage. The speech-making was from the rear car containing the big guns, and a large crowd gave attentive hearing to each speaker.

The war trophies consisted of almost every conceivable weapon used on the battle field over seas, some of the finest output of the famous Krupp works at Essen, Germany, being featured in the display.

It was all highly interesting and the regret of every visitor was that he didn't have time enough for a more careful inspection.

The train left here for Phillipsburg, Osceola and Houtzdale and will then travel to Lock Haven and wind up at Williamsport tonight.

A guard of eight or ten Yankee veterans accompany the train.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your back hurts or bladder bothers you drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your kidneys with a lot of drugs that excite the bowels and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinary waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain out 150 grains of acid and waste, so you can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water. You can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in uric acid, and is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water to drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, sour stomach, lame back can instead both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the system with a glass of hot water each morning. We should drink before breakfast a glass of hot water with a few drops of lemon juice. This will flush out the system, purify the blood, and give you a new lease on life. The action of lemon juice and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the morbid humors, opens up the bowels, and gives you a splendid appetite for breakfast and a clear head for the day.

Make every dollar do its duty. Up, and at 'em with BONDS.

Rev. Mr. Clifford Plain "Doc" To Pals In Fighting Marines

REV. JOHN H. CLIFFORD.

Arizona Pastor Unanimously Elected One of Them After He Braved Shell and Bullet to Help Carry Wounded Colonel Back to Safety—Laid Up Now Himself For Repairs.

troops up and down the western screech of "a shell" and both front. Most of the time he has spent with the marines.

In fact, he is a marine. His election was unanimous, and in a Fritz sent in his calling card I saw the Doc wandering toward the German lines. I say to myself always ready for trouble when a trouble comes. Waking from a nap one afternoon he couldn't find his coat and cap. A prank, he thought, and he walked out to get the air. When he returned his coat and cap were waiting for him.

On the cap had been sewn the marine insignia. The army buttons on his coat had become marine buttons. At that time the Doc was waiting for him.

He did it, too, while his left leg was numb from shell shock and he could hardly look at his left hand for the pain that was in it. But wouldn't any of the marines have done a similar act for him? That's how he feels about it.

THE "DOC" A PREACHER
At home the Doc is the Rev. John H. Clifford. Till last Fall he was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tucson, Ariz. He left the church to go to France for the Y. M. C. A., and since last December he has been working with the American headquarters.

Arrival, of course, was at night. That next afternoon he and the battalion dentist were walking along the main street of the village, between the sick bay and headquarters. Then came the doctor was with him, and in urgent need of help. Shouting to another marine, the Doc ran over to the sick bay, grabbed a stretcher and started in the direction in which the colonel had pointed. It was at least three hundred yards across the field. Snipers were plentiful, and shells were dropping all about. Down on their stomachs went the Doc and the marine. Pushing the stretcher ahead, they wiggled and crawled through the stubble to the trench. They found the colonel with the doctor and the colonel's orderly. The colonel was weak from loss of blood. The doctor said that they must get him out as soon as possible. But the shells were coming too fast and the snipers' bullets were waiting too ominously for an immediate getaway.

Shrapnel was falling in the trench. The orderly put himself between his colonel and the enemy fire.

DOC HANGS ON BRAVELY
And so they waited, and waited, one hour, two hours. The doctor looked at his watch—it was after eight o'clock.

"Guess we'd better make the break," he said. They got the colonel on the stretcher and started. Half way across the field the Doc's leg went back on him and he had to let his hold on the stretcher. But he took hold again in a minute or two and hung on until the colonel was comfortable in a bed in the sick bay.

After that the Doc wasn't exactly sure what happened. He thought he was going to stay with the marines, but when he got out of the canyon in which he had been invited to ride by his major, he was in front of a hotel in Paris.

"I didn't want to come back," he told an interviewer. "I wanted to stay with my battalion. But they told me it's rather badly shot up and they guessed I'd better wait a while until it's reformed and ready for action again."

He fumbled in his pocket and drew out a shrapnel bullet, slightly flattened on one side. "That struck between the colonel and his orderly while we were in the trench," he said. "It hit a stone, bounced, and fell a short distance away. I picked it up, and whenever I show it I think of the orderly—a brave, manly fellow—who was killed by a piece of shell which struck him in the side, and exploded the cartridges he was carrying."

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

DIED IN SERVICE
FRANCE
April 21st 1918

While Heads Are Bared.

LIEUTENANT ELY, it is ours reverently to acknowledge the service you have rendered.

To your country and ours, you gave all you had to give, a life, young and buoyant, offered when you had but just arrived at life's fullest understanding—and more than this no man can give.

But in the giving, sir, you gave as well the outpour of your stout young heart—that all of us to whom you pass along the touch might offer prayer, and carry on in better understanding of that ennobled cause for which no sacrifice shall be in vain.

Some of us are far behind the fighting lines of France today. For circumstance has made two battle lines, and there must be therefore those gone to fight, and others kept behind to carry on at home.

But as you say, both lines bring chance for deeds well done, and great investments too.

Little did you know, Lieutenant Ely, when you went to the post that day, that your last letter to those proud parents you left back home contained a message not alone for them, but, simple and sincere, for all your countrymen as well.

It did, indeed, for you uncovered the heart of all America when you wrote, "I want to say in closing, if anything happens to me let's have no mourning in spirit or in dress, for like a Liberty Bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country."

The Fourth Liberty Loan is now announced.

Do you think, Lieutenant Ely, that we shall soon forget your admonition—or that we shall not proudly subscribe for all we possibly can of your country's Liberty Bonds, which you so nobly glorified?

Indeed, we can do no less, for it seems to us that each subscription blank must bear your parting salutation—"for like a Liberty Bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country."

LAST CHANCE UNTIL AFTER THE WAR

To buy an automobile at as low a price as we are going to close our fall stock out at we have a few used cars in good shape on hand that we are going to sell at once if we have to sell them for half what they are worth. This will be a cash sale but you will gain by doing it. We also have only two Maxwell touring cars and one Roadster at the old price. After October 7th they will cost you $70.00 more money, so if you expect an automobile next year you had better save a hundred or two and buy now. Do not miss this sale for we have to dispose of these cars to make room and get the money to stock up this fall with new ones for next spring for by the first of the year we will not be able to get a car. So do not put this off but come today and get one of these bargains for they have to go in the next few days.

OUR INDIVIDUAL PART

Some observers think that the most characteristic thing about the American soldiers in France, something which astounds the enemy and excites the admiration of our allies, is the capacity of the American soldiers to do individual thinking and fighting. The German fights successfully only in mass formation, in organized bodies, while every American soldier has an initiative and independence of action which gives him remarkable efficiency in open fighting. They are not senseless cogs, but each is an individual working unit in a great fighting machine.

Every American at home should feel an individual responsibility and do his or her individual part in winning the war. There is not an American citizen who can not help win the war. The Fourth Liberty Loan drive, which begins September 28, offers a great opportunity for concerted action and for individual action, and the loan will be a tremendous success if each American will do his or her individual part as each American soldier in France does his part. Our soldiers deserve such support from the people at home.

We're back of 'em. Show it. This war is not of guns alone! Your share is your UTMOST. The boys are counting on you. Bonds fight behind the guns. Now is your time to punish.

KEEP UP THE STEADY STREAM

Over there in France are mammoth depots stored to the roof with munitions and supplies. Out from their gates streaming over hundred and hundreds of miles of roads motor lorries, trains, and camions rushing support to the battle lines. Over here at a hundred warrens great ships are being laden with the guns, the shot, the shell, the powder, the vehicles of transport to feed these depots through their receiving doors.

"Think of the billions and billions of dollars needed to supply them all! Think of the boys at the front who are endangered, unless the supplies arrive on time! And then think of what YOU must do to keep up the steady stream!"

This Fourth Liberty Loan for Six Billion Dollars is your answer! Our soldiers do not say after a fight or two, "I have done enough." Then, surely, neither will YOU after you have bought a bond or two. Buy every bond you have the cash to pay for and then every one you can pay for in future installments.

Stop, think and loosen. Buy! Bondage versus Bonds, which? Strike the sneer from the Hun! Bonds are symbols of RIGHT. Remember Chateau-Thierry! Bonds fight in the trenches.

BLIND THE HUNS

In this war aeroplanes are the eyes of the army. Overwhelming thousands of these air fighters will place in the hands of General Pershing the exact location of enemy forces in every sector of the front and prevent the enemy from learning the disposal of our own boys. This alone may save the life of your son or brother or husband, and perhaps tens of thousands of others.

Measure your risk against the risk of every noble aviator fighting for you—He goes up today and returns, he may do the same thing tomorrow and the next day, but he never knows if he will come down alive or dead—Yet he does it day after day and feels his job is never done. Neither is yours, not even if you bought a Liberty Bond every day.

Americans, RIGHT with your dollars, stand staunch behind the brave boys. Bring with you cash and buy on installments. And do it NOW!

Stick to YOUR Bond-Trench. They even crucified prisoners. Keep YOUR conscience clear. The Hun MUST be crushed. His sister urges you to buy. Money talks! Buy more Bonds.

"ON—WITH THE TANKS"

Smash 'em and crush 'em and treat 'em rough!

Don't 'em and cream 'em—that's the stuff!

Every man-jack of 'em wants you in back of 'em!

Taking the bonds from the banks! Every last son of 'em says to buy more of 'em—

While they go on—with the tanks! Yes, on with the tanks, and on with the ships, and on with the bullets, and on with the guns, and on with the bayonettes, and on with your dollars to send them over and keep them there and send them forward—forward to Berlin!

Buy Liberty Bonds with every dollar you can possibly spare and then buy more on installments with all you can save in the months to come. Six billion dollars is a vast sum, but it's the least we can do for the boys who are fighting for us. Get back of the Loan—buy more Bonds!

Stop, think and loosen. Buy! Bondage versus Bonds, which? Strike the sneer from the Hun!

JOIN THE COUPON CLIPPERS

You Will Get Money From Uncle Sam Almost Every Month.

By fixing the interest dates on the Fourth Liberty Loan as April and October 25 of each year, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has made it possible for the new army of Government bondholders to "clip a coupon" in eight of the twelve months of the year. Those subscribers who took the registered form of bond instead of the coupon bond because of its greater security will in the same way receive an interest check from the government in eight months of the year, provided, of course, that they have retained the bonds of the three preceding loans which they bought.

On the first Liberty Loan the interest dates are June and December 25; on the second Liberty Loan they are May and November 15; on the third Liberty Loan, March and September 15, and on the fourth Liberty Loan, April and October 15.

Even if the purchaser of a bond of the first Liberty Loan took advantage of its conversion privilege to secure 4 per cent interest on the second loan, and again converted his bond to secure 4 1/2 per cent interest paid on the third loan the interest dates on the conversion bond which he received for his original bond remain the same.

The evident purpose of Secretary McAdoo naming different interest dates on the four issues of bonds was to divide the physical work of paying the interest and also to distribute the payment of interest over the year instead of having payments concentrated in two months.

On a $9,000,000,000 loan the probable amount of the fourth loan, the annual interest payment at 4 1/2 per cent will be $255,000,000 or $127,500,000 at each semi-annual interest date. Interest charges on the first Liberty Loan, if one-half of the bonds have been converted into 4 1/2s and the balance remain at 3 1/2 per cent is $77,500,000 per annum, on the second loan, if $1,000,000,000 of the original issue is outstanding at 4 1/2 per cent and the remaining $2,808,000,000 converted into 4 1/2s, the annual interest is $160,340,000 and on the third loan of $4,370,000,000 at 4 1/2 per cent the annual interest is $177,450,000, a total for the three loans of $414,000,000, and the coming fourth loan of $9,000,000,000 with its interest charge of $255,000,000 will swell the Government's annual interest payments to $669,280,000, which explains why the interest payments are divided.

MOVIES FOR THE LOAN

Big Stars Play Parts in Thrilling Pictures That Boost Fourth Loan.

The moving picture reels to boost the Fourth Liberty Loan have been prepared largely in consequence of the great success achieved by Douglas Fairbanks' film last spring. The leading stars have prepared scenarios and acted them. Films have been finished by Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, William Hart, Mary Pickford, Dustin Farnum, Pauline Frederick, Geraldine Farrar, Dorothy Gish, Mable Norman, Clara Kimball Young, Norma Talmadge and others.

Two films have already been received in Philadelphia and enough have been completed to insure every exhibitor in this district having opportunity to screen a new Liberty Loan feature each day of the campaign. It has been arranged by the National Liberty Loan Committee that exhibitors will secure these films entirely free of charge.

The first two pictures received are "A Bullet For Berlin," by William S. Hart, and "Kaiser Bill," by Mae Murray. It is said that Mary Pickford's story will be of an unusual nature and will carry a big punch. D. W. Griffith will take personal charge of the filming of the Lillian Gish story and Thomas H. Ince is making a special production in addition to the ones in which his stars are to appear. Reports from the Pacific coast are that the "Patty Buckle" film is a scream. Charlie Chaplin's film is expected to be one thousand feet in length. It will be a "knock-out," but Charlie maintains deep secrecy as to the nature of it.

"A New Service Star"

The United States Government gives you with this new loan opportunity to put a Service Star in your pocketbook. Either your pocketbook will proudly wear that Star, because you lend your money to your Government, or you have a slacker purse.

You are either fighting for your country or you are against it! The slacker purse will buy neither peace nor pleasure.

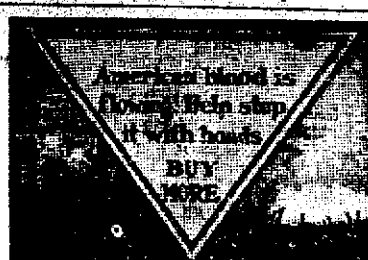

The slacker purse is a traitor. Make your plans now to put a Service Star in your pocketbook. Then you can look at the service flag in your neighbor's window and smile with the knowledge that you have done your duty.

Make sure that in this Fourth Liberty Loan every pocketbook you know has its service star.

See to it that among all your friends and acquaintances there shall be no slacker purses.

Plan to buy bonds with every cent you have and then to buy more on installments with all you can possibly save in the months to come.

We're back of 'em. Show it. This war is not of guns alone! Your share is your UTMOST.

WHAT THE LIBERTY LOAN HAS BOUGHT FOR THE ARMY

From the beginning of the war to June 30, 1918, the last day of the past fiscal year, contracts were placed by the Ordnance Department of the United States totalling $4,300,000,000. The estimate for the current year is over $7,000,000,000. The major items of last year were as follows:

Artillery, $1,050,000,000; automatic rifles, $300,000,000; small arms, $100,000,000; artillery ammunition, $1,900,000,000; small arms ammunition, $340,000,000; small arms ammunition (practice), $80,000,000; stores and supplies (personal, horse, and organization), $230,000,000; armored motor cars, $100,000,000; total, $4,100,000,000.

Some other expenditures by the War Department were $375,000,000 for engineering operations, mostly in France; $37,000,000 for flour, $145,000,000 for sugar, $45,000,000 for bacon, $12,000,000 for beans, $9,000,000 for tomatoes, $2,000,000 for rice, $47,700,000 for rolling kitchens, $127,000,000 for shoes, $565,000,000 for clothing; for blankets, $147,000,000.

Some smaller expenditures were over $600,000 for axes, $1,875,000 for field stores, $2,700,000 for carpenter, and $221,000 for blacksmith tools, $2,500,000 for shovels.

The department has bought 206,000 wagons and carts, costing $37,000,000; and 410,000 horses and mules, costing $90,000,000; food for them cost $62,000,000, and harness $29,000,000.

These are only some of the figures. They seem large, but not so large when it is remembered that we have nearly 2,000,000 men in France and almost as many in training here at home. All of this money and all the other money raised by the Liberty Loans goes to make our Army, our Navy, and our people powerful and victorious in their war for freedom and right.

This Store Has the Most Satisfying Collection of Dependable Furs

We make this statement unhesitatingly—and we are rather of the opinion that we are very modest in our statement—because we have rarely, if ever, had a more desirable collection and a wider range of choice of desirable and reliable qualities.

If the war should continue for an indefinite period, it is very doubtful whether furs of this kind will be possible to secure for many years to come—and surely not at present costs. The styles here are very exclusive in design and so carefully made that they will give unquestioned service.

LIBERTY BOND NEWS OF INTEREST TO YOU

Washington, Oct. 4.—Close on the heels of Iowa, Oregon today went over her Fourth Liberty Loan quota by at least 30 per cent., Edward Pookingham, Oregon's state chairman, telegraphed this morning from Portland.

Three hundred fifty million dollars will have to be subscribed each day for the remainder of the campaign to reach the minimum of six billion dollars. The country is running approximately 50 per cent. behind its subscription. The gain in the last 24 hours in subscriptions has been less than $200,000,000. One encouraging feature of the campaign, however, is that according to reports the bonds are being more widely distributed than in previous campaigns. More $50 bonds than $100 bonds are being subscribed for.

The patriotic little town of Bigler, subscribed for.

which has been in the forefront of every war movement since hostilities began, went over the top with a vengeance in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Bigler's quota was allotted, a meeting scheduled and the campaign started. The meeting was due to be held last evening and desiring to make a proper showing the soliciting committee got busy in advance of the time. The following hustlers made up this committee: Mrs. Jesse Waple, Miss Guy Thompson, Mrs. Ashley Knepp, and Miss Olive Forney. So well did they conduct their campaign that bonds totaling more than the amount of their allotment were disposed of before the meeting was called to order.

The speakers for the meeting were H. B. Powell and W. J. Swoope, Esq., of Clearfield, and following their splendid efforts additional bonds were disposed of.

Delightful music was furnished by the Bigler choir, Miss Esther Woomer presiding at the organ.

The Lee Garage company and their force of employees aligned themselves with the 100 per cent. boys in the Fourth Liberty Loan, every person about the works subscribing for a bond.

At Ansonville last evening as a result of a fine meeting $5150 worth of bonds were sold. Private Devoe, one of Pershing's motor cycle dispatch bearers and First Class Seaman Martin who was on a boat torpedoed by one of the Kaiser's sea snakes were in attendance at this meeting. Private Devoe spoke briefly. The other speakers were Hon. J. Frank Snyder, H. S. Whitman, Jr., and Hon. Joseph E. Phillips.

Glen Hope people purchased bonds to the amount of $4100 at a meeting addressed by Fred G. Betts and A. E. Woodward last evening.

L. C. Norris and John C. Arnold, Esq., were the speakers at a Liberty Loan meeting at Ladose last evening at which $5200 worth of bonds were subscribed for. Kewaydin patriots were addressed by Rev. Dr. Hartman of Trinity church and County Chairman W. H. Callahan. Bonds to the amount of $2300 were sold.

Down at Bald Hill J. P. O'Laughlin and Roy Fulton addressed a large and enthusiastic gathering and as a result thereof their total subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan is now something over $6000 and the returns are not all in yet.

Lumber City rallied to the colors last evening and after listening attentively to addresses by John M. Bain and Captain Reed added $1500 to the $5000 worth of bonds already sold and promise to largely exceed those figures before the campaign closes.

His mother has recently recovered from a serious operation at the McGirk sanitarium for appendicitis. He was about 22 years of age. He is survived by one brother James Jr., and two sisters Catherine and Mary.

ITALY DRAFTS INTERNATIONAL RULES FOR AIRCRAFT

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Sept. 9. (By Mail).—The Italian government has just completed the draft of a series of laws covering aerial navigation.

The proposed statute is the result of over a year of study by a government commission and the law as now completed ready to be submitted to the Italian parliament consists of 41 articles. This is the first project of the kind that any government has perfected, and indicates the initiative Italy expects to take in aerial transportation following the war.

In a general way the new aerial law is similar to those governing sea navigation. For the present the law is for application in Italy alone, but it is expected to serve later as a basis for similar laws in other European countries and finally as the foundation for international laws governing aerial navigation, which must inevitably follow with the development of this means of transportation.

All Are Aeromobiles

The new Italian law fixes, first of all, the technical names to be used in designating the more important aspects of aerial navigation. All aircraft, whether airplanes or dirigibles, will be known under the general name of aeromobiles. Aerial ports will be the name applied to the regular places for landing and departing, while refuge ports will be the name applied to those landing place where the aerial craft can put in in case of accident.

The law provides that regular aerial ports are to be equipped with very much the same facilities as are to be found in any great sea port for the landing, unloading, repairing, and taking on of cargoes.

Special articles provide for what an aeromobile must do if it is obliged to land in other than a regular or refuge aerial port.

Special provisions govern the zones of altitude in which the aeromobiles must navigate to prevent collisions and other accidents.

The proposition to limit the height at which the aeromobiles might navigate in order to render more easy their surveillance from the ground, was stricken out, and no limit was placed on the altitude of flight.

Must Avoid Forts

On the other hand, for reasons of national defense, there is an article prohibiting aeromobiles from flying over forts and other military and naval defenses.

The proposed laws would prohibit transportation by aeromobiles of inflammable matter, explosives and other kinds of merchandise that might endanger the aircraft and other property in case of accident.

Other articles provide that all aeromobiles must be registered in the national registry of aircraft; that each aeromobile must have a government certificate of its navigability; that there must be officers of recognized competence aboard; and that each aircraft must carry certain official documents.

The proposed code in all probability will be made law at the coming session of parliament.

OLDER MEN WILL GET CHANCE TO GO

Washington, Oct. 4.—Interest in the draft is now focused upon the probable future calls to the colors of the September 12 registrants.

In view of the exceptional speed with which the work of classification of the Class One of the 19 to 36 group is being conducted by the local boards it is not unlikely that this class will be exhausted much sooner than expected.

It may be stated that the registrants within the older age groups will be called upon in order to furnish General Pershing with the very best material within the 18 to 45 years for the fighting force of 4,000,000 which the nation has pledged to have in France by next July.

Army specialists are making great headway. Reports from Washington today showed that approximately 105,000 cases are reported in the army camps.

STATE HEALTH BOARD ORDERS THE CLOSING OF THEATRES & SALOONS

WHAT IT MEANS

Dr. John W. Gordon, County Health Officer for Clearfield County, in telephone conversation with the State Health Authorities at Harrisburg this afternoon, learned that no other orders than those published in the newspapers of this day are considered by the Health Department to be necessary. According to the order, the Health Department expects all amusement places, saloons, public entertainments and gatherings of any kind to be closed until further notice. The schools alone are excepted and the closing of them is left to the discretion of the local school board. The order is state wide and applies to Sunday schools, churches and all public meeting or amusement places.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH OFFICIAL WARNING CONCERNING INFLUENZA

SALOONS AND THEATRES OF STATE MUST CLOSE

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—Doctor B. F. Royer, state commissioner of health, tonight handed down an order closing all places of public amusement and every saloon in Pennsylvania because of the epidemic of influenza. It is the most sweeping health order ever issued.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—The most sweeping order ever issued by the Philadelphia board of health was decided upon today in an effort to check the spread of influenza.

All churches, schools, theatres, motion, concert halls, etc., were ordered closed.

From: Acting Commission of Health
To: Boards of Health of Penna.
Subject: Influenza.

Influenza is apparently rapidly becoming epidemic in the eastern part of the United States. It is imperative that Health Authorities be prepared to cope with this epidemic, that they shall be prepared to issue advice concerning preventive measures that may be helpful in averting serious outbreaks of the disease, and that they now prepare to render relief even before the disease becomes epidemic.

This disease, which is apparently the same type of influenza that swept over America in 1889 and 1890, is sudden in onset and is characterized by fever from 101 to 104 degrees, chilliness, headache, and pain in widely distributed areas; pneumonia and nephritis being common and dangerous complications. Mild cases may run a course of from three days to a week. A large proportion of cases are severely prostrated and in addition to an annoying bronchitis may develop fatal pneumonia. Abscesses may occur in ears, tonsils or lungs. Depressing nervous manifestations may continue for some time in convalescence and vitality may be greatly lowered to other disease processes.

Your citizens should now and until the epidemic wave has entirely subsided be urged to practice every care in the way of personal and domestic hygiene; to secure clean, wholesome food of considerable variety; to watch the organs of elimination and avoid constipation, at least one free movement of the bowels should be obtained daily. They should be especially urged to keep in the fresh air as much as possible, night and day, and to avoid spending time in crowded places of entertainment or diversion. Especial attention should be called to the dangers of travel in crowded trolleys or railway cars and to overcrowded living conditions. It would be well to urge wide open windows, throwing up of shades and removal of awnings, and of utilizing the best of all air purification, sunshine.

It would be well to urge upon your citizens the avoidance of fatigue of every sort, as nothing lowers resistance to this disease as much as fatigue. Urge regularity of meals, regularity of habits and avoidance of dissipation and especially alcoholic dissipation. As a means of prevention, call attention in posters, in circulars and in newspaper articles to the need of care when early symptoms develop resembling "colds," and insist that all such persons remain as nearly as possible on their own premises. Those convalescent should be urged to remain on their own premises for at least a week after fever subsides and longer when cough persists. Should the disease become unduly prevalent in your community, all places where persons congregate in numbers should be closed. Probably the public schools may need to be closed in some communities later, but for the present the consensus of medical public health opinion would be that children in well ventilated school rooms are reasonably safe, certainly much safer than in moving picture halls and other places badly ventilated.

Influenza is spread by infectious particles thrown off while coughing and sneezing. Probably nothing would better fix the attention to the need of covering the mouth and nose with a handkerchief when coughing and nothing would better fix the attention of your citizens upon the danger of infection from the droplets of moisture thrown off while coughing and sneezing than for you now to enforce the anti-spitting act. A few arrests made each week of persons spitting on sidewalks, railway platforms, on railway carriages or other public places would fix attention of your citizens upon this sort of care in a way that would offer protection against respiratory diseases now and in the future. We, therefore, strongly urge that such examples be made now.

Many communities believe it to be of great advantage to have influenza made reportable. Should you take such action probably it would be well to place in the hands of every adult having the disease and in the hands of parents of children having the disease, a circular of instructions, urging destruction of sputum during the height of the disease and for a week of convalescence, of its collection in kerchiefs or sputum cups by ambulatory cases and to place such individuals on their honor to remain away from public gatherings for a full week after fever subsides.

Doctors and nurses may protect themselves by masking the patient with gauze or a towel when working about the sick just as we always do in making careful examination of the tuberculous. All attendants and visitors should carefully cleanse hands with soap and water and all bed linen and utensils should be disinfected frequently by boiling.

It would be well to make a survey of hospital facilities available in case of an epidemic or to select suitable buildings for an emergency hospital. It is advisable to make provision where possible for isolation of cases and for special stalls made by stringing wires and hanging sheets in large wards.

With any undue prevalence of the disease in your community kindly advise this Department by telegraph or telephone.

This note is issued after conference with the Advisory Board of the Department of Health.

Acting Commissioner of Health.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—All saloons in Pittsburgh closed at ten o'clock and theatres were ordered not to open until the State health authorities order issued with a view of ending the Spanish influenza epidemic in Pennsylvania has been lifted or revoked. There are indications that the city officials will make every effort to have the order modified as there is no Spanish influenza here and officials believe that the order as affecting this city is unnecessary. Officials in charge of the Liberty Loan in western Pennsylvania declare that the closing order will likely have a bad effect upon the campaign.

The Winter Chautauqua opened on Wednesday afternoon. The burning of the Fireman's arcade has made it necessary to find some other place in which to hold the entertainments this year. There being no suitable hall available the trustees of the M. E. church consented to allow the use of their auditorium for the purpose.

The program for Wednesday afternoon opened with a lecture by Dr. L. A. Downey on "The Epochs of Race History". A musical concert by the McKinney Operatic Co. was greatly enjoyed by those who were present. The evening entertainment was opened with several patriotic musical songs by the school children after which Post Master A. E. Brown made a four minute speech in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan. The Operatic Co. again pleased the large audience with their singing. "Humanity's last reserve" was the subject of the lecture by George H. Turner who for an hour and a half held his audience while he brought to them a vital message showing we are at war and the need of our support to the boys who are "over there". The Chautauqua will continue on Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening. Dr. George Lawrence Parker's lecture on "Russia in Revolution" will be worth the price of the entire series.

The Sacrament of communion will be observed in the Presbyterian church on Sunday the 6th.

Buy Your Christmas Piano Now

Not a bit too early in the face of what the war is doing and threatening to do to the piano industry.

Manufacturers say, that, owing to government curtailment of steel and other supplies used in the manufacture of pianos, the output of pianos and player pianos will be greatly reduced, that no doubt the present available supply of instruments will be exhausted by December 1st.

So if you have been looking forward to buying a piano this Christmas, now's the time to buy it. As pianos become scarcer, the prices will probably rise, so you will save money by buying it now. One thing certain

THOUSANDS VISITED TROPHIES TRAIN THIS MORNING

Just 2305 Clearfield people visited the War Trophies train which spent two hours in Clearfield this morning under the auspices of the Fourth Liberty Loan Committee. The train has a schedule of 184 towns and cities to visit during its three weeks itinerary and of course its stay at any one point is necessarily quite limited. The hours fixed for Clearfield were from 6 to 8 a. m. and of course our patriotic citizens were forced to forego "forty winks" in order to be on hand to view the modern implements of warfare.

Those in charge of the train were a few minutes late in getting it open, due to the fact that they were pretty well fagged out after the strenuous race they have been hitting this week. One of the soldier guards said while war was all and more than Sherman said it was, old William Tecumseh had never traveled with an outfit on a mission such as this or he would have added something to his observations.

The doors were opened about 6:30 and from that time until 8:15 the cars were thronged with visitors.

County Chairman Hobart Callahan of the Liberty Loan Committee was on hand and assisted in getting everybody through in proper style, while John M. Bain, of the Local Selective Service Board, opened the speech-making and held the crowd until the soldier orators could get into action. This end of the outfit was in charge of Geo. L. MacNulty, a schoolmate of President Wilson, who has two sons in France.

Addresses were made by Private Hopkins, a Philadelphian, who saw service in France with the Canadian forces.

Private Rudy, one of Pershing's veterans, also told some interesting personal experiences while advocating the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

Lt. Devilli, a French hero, also addressed the assembly. The speech-making was from the rear car containing the big guns, and a large crowd gave attentive hearing to each speaker.

The war trophies consisted of almost every conceivable weapon used on the battle field since 1860, some of the finest output of the famous Krupp works at Essen, Germany, being featured in the display.

It was all highly interesting and the regret of every visitor was that he didn't have time enough for a more careful inspection.

The train left here for Phillipsburg, Osceola and Houtzdale and will then travel to Lock Haven and wind up at Williamsport tonight.

A guard of eight or ten Yankee veterans accompany the train.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your back hurts or bladder bothers you drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your kidneys with a lot of drugs that excite the stomach and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinary waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water. You can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water to drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back can instead both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the system with a glass of hot water each morning. We should drink before breakfast a glass of hot water with a few drops of lemon juice. This will clear out the system, wash away the poisonous matter, and purify the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. The action of lemon juice and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the morbid humors, such as acid, bile and liver, and purifies the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. Rev. Mr. Clifford Plain "Doc" To Pals In Fighting Marines

REV. JOHN H. CLIFFORD.

PARIS, July 26—The marines of one of the first-line regiments call him Doc. As they went against the enemy in the glorious fighting in the first few days of Summer he went with them. And when more than one wounded marine woke up in hospital he asked straightway:

"How's Doc? Did he come through all right?"

That's how they feel about the Doc. What's more, they are very proud of him. For when the fight was hottest he helped drag a stretcher across a shell-swept field to bring back their colonel, who was lying in an exposed trench, his shoulder shattered by machine gun fire.

He did it, too, while his left leg was numb from shell shock and he could hardly look at his left hand for the pain that was in it. But wouldn't any of the marines have done a similar act for him? That's how he feels about it.

THE "DOC" A PREACHER

At home the Doc is the Rev. John H. Clifford. Till last Fall he was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tucson, Ariz. He left the church to go to France for the Y. M. C. A., and since last December he has been working with the American headquarters.

Arizona Pastor Unanimously Elected One of Them After He Braved Shell and Bullet to Help Carry Wounded Colonel Back to Safety—Laid Up Now Himself For Repairs.

troops up and down the western screech of "a shell" and both front. Most of the time he has spent with the marines.

In fact, he is a marine. His election was unanimous, and in a way peculiar to the troops who are always ready for trouble when a trouble comes. Waking from a nap one afternoon he couldn't find his coat and cap. A prank, he thought, and he walked out to get the air. When he returned his coat and cap were waiting for him.

On the cap had been sewn the marine insignia. The army buttons on his coat had become marine buttons. At that time the major noticed the changes and said:

"One of us now, eh Padre?"

Wherever the marines of his special battalion have moved since that election he has moved. During the latter part of May, when they started for the thick of the fighting in the region of the Marne, he slung his pack and marched with them. His billet was in a French village, toward which the Germans were driving.

Arrival, of course, was at night. That next afternoon he and the battalion dentist were walking along the main street of the village, between the sick bay and headquarters. Then came the doctor was with him; and in urgent need of help.

Shouting to another marine, the Doc ran over to the sick bay, grabbed a stretcher and started in the direction in which the colonel had pointed. It was at least three hundred yards across the field. Snipers were plentiful, and shells were dropping all about. Down the stretcher went the Doc and the marine. Pushing the stretcher ahead, they wiggled and crawled through the stubble to the trench. They found the colonel with the doctor and the colonel's orderly. The colonel was weak from loss of blood. The doctor said that they must get him out as soon as possible. But the shells were coming too fast and the snipers' bullets were waiting too ominously for an immediate getaway.

Shrapnel was falling in the trench. The orderly put himself between his colonel and the enemy fire.

DOC HANGS ON BRAVELY

And so they waited, and waited, one hour, two hours. The doctor looked at his watch—it was after eight o'clock.

"Guess we'd better make the break," he said.

They got the colonel on the stretcher and started. Half way across the field the Doc's leg went back on him and he had to let his hold on the stretcher. But he took hold again in a minute or two and hung on until the colonel was comfortable in a bed in the sick bay.

After that the Doc wasn't exactly sure what happened. He thought he was going to stay with the marines, but when he got out of the canton in which he had been invited to ride by his major, he was in front of a hotel in Paris.

"I didn't want to come back," he told an interviewer. "I wanted to stay with my battalion. But they told me it's rather badly shot up and they guessed I'd better wait a while until it's reformed and ready for action again."

He fumbled in his pocket and drew out a shrapnel bullet, slightly flattened on one side.

"That struck between the colonel and his orderly while we were in the trench," he said. "It hit a stone, bounced and fell a short distance away. I picked it up, and whenever I show it I think of the orderly—a brave, manly fellow—who was killed by a piece of shell which struck him in the side, and exploded the cartridges he was carrying."

He wouldn't admit it, but there is no doubt that he will think of how he proved himself a full-fledged marine. And he knows that he will never be allowed to leave his nickname, Doc.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

While Heads Are Bared.

LIEUTENANT ELY, it is ours reverently to acknowledge the service you have rendered.

To your country and ours, you gave all you had to give, a life, young and buoyant, offered when you had but just arrived at life's fullest understanding—and more than this no man can give.

But in the giving, sir, you gave as well the outpour of your stout young heart—that all of us to whom you pass along the touch might offer prayer, and carry on in better understanding of that ennobled cause for which no sacrifice shall be in vain.

Some of us are far behind the fighting lines of France today. For circumstance has made two battle lines, and there must be therefore those gone to fight, and others kept behind to carry on at home.

But as you say, both lines bring chance for deeds well done, and great investments too.

Little did you know, Lieutenant Ely, when you went to the post that day, that your last letter to those proud parents you left back home contained a message not alone for them, but, simple and sincere, for all your countrymen as well.

It did, indeed, for you uncovered the heart of all America when you wrote, "I want to say in closing, if anything happens to me let's have no mourning in spirit or in dress, for like a Liberty Bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country."

The Fourth Liberty Loan is now announced.

Do you think, Lieutenant Ely, that we shall soon forget your admonition—or that we shall not proudly subscribe for all we possibly can of your country's Liberty Bonds, which you so nobly glorified?

Indeed, we can do no less, for it seems to us that each subscription blank must bear your parting salutation—"for like a Liberty Bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country."

LAST CHANCE UNTIL AFTER THE WAR

To buy an automobile at as low a price as we are going to close our fall stock out at we have a few used cars in good shape on hand that we are going to sell at once if we have to sell them for half what they are worth. This will be a cash sale but you will gain by doing it. We also have only two Maxwell touring cars and one Roadster at the old price. After October 7th they will cost you $70.00 more money, so if you expect an automobile next year you had better save a hundred or two and buy now. Do not miss this sale for we have to dispose of these cars to make room and get the money to stock up this fall with new ones for next spring for by the first of the year we will not be able to get a car. So do not put this off but come today and get one of these bargains for they have to go in the next few days.

A very pleasant meeting was held at the First Baptist church last night. After the picnic supper Rev. J. E. Gearhart was presented a beautiful cane made of red balsa wood with silver band on which was engraved his name and date.

This was given to him in appreciation of his services to the Baptist church.

OUR INDIVIDUAL PART

Some observers think that the most characteristic thing about the American soldiers in France, something which astounds the enemy and excites the admiration of our allies, is the capacity of the American soldiers to do individual thinking and fighting. The German fights successfully only in mass formation, in organized bodies, while every American soldier has an initiative and independence of action which gives him remarkable efficiency in open fighting. They are not senseless cogs, but each is an individual working unit in a great fighting machine.

Every American at home should feel an individual responsibility and do his or her individual part in winning the war. There is not an American citizen who can not help win the war. The Fourth Liberty Loan drive, which begins September 28, offers a great opportunity for concerted action and for individual action, and the loan will be a tremendous success if each American will do his or her individual part as each American soldier in France does his part. Our soldiers deserve such support from the people at home.

We're back of 'em. Show it. This war is not of guns alone! Your share is your UTMOST. The boys are counting on you. Bonds fight behind the guns. Now is your time to punish.

KEEP UP THE STEADY STREAM

Over there in France are mammoth depots stored to the roof with munitions and supplies. Out from their gates streaming over hundred and hundreds of miles of roads motor lorries, trains, and camions rushing support to the battle lines. Over here at a hundred warrens great ships are being laden with the guns, the shot, the shell, the powder, the vehicles of transport to feed these depots through their receiving doors.

"Think of the billions and billions of dollars needed to supply them all! Think of the boys at the front who are endangered, unless the supplies arrive on time! And then think of what YOU must do to keep up the steady stream!"

This Fourth Liberty Loan for Six Billion Dollars is your answer! Our soldiers do not say after a fight or two, "I have done enough." Then, surely, neither will YOU after you have bought a bond or two. Buy every bond you have the cash to pay for and then every one you can pay for in future installments.

Stop, think and loosen. Buy! Bonds are your RIGHT. Remember Chateau-Tyrril! Bonds fight in the trenches.

BLIND THE HUNS

In this war aeroplanes are the eyes of the army. Overwhelming thousands of these air fighters will place in the hands of General Pershing the exact location of enemy forces in every sector of the front and prevent the enemy from learning the disposal of our own boys. This alone may save the life of your son or brother or husband, and perhaps tens of thousands of others.

Measure your risk against the risk of every noble aviator fighting for you—He goes up today and returns, he may do the same thing tomorrow and the next day, but he never knows if he will come down alive or dead—Yet he does it day after day and feels his job is never done. Neither is yours, not even if you bought a Liberty Bond every day.

Americans, FIGHT with your dollars, stand staunch behind the brave boys. Bring with you cash and buy on installments. And do it NOW!

Stick to YOUR Bond-Trench. They even crucified prisoners. Keep YOUR conscience clear. The Hun MUST be crushed. His sister urges you to buy. Money talks! Buy more Bonds.

"ON—WITH THE TANKS"

Smash 'em and crush 'em and treat 'em rough!

Don't let 'em and cream 'em—that's the stuff!

Every man-jack of 'em wants you in back of 'em!

Taking the bonds from the banks! Every last son of 'em says to buy more of 'em—

While they go on—with the tanks! Yes, on with the tanks, and on with the ships, and on with the bullets, and on with the guns, and on with the bayonettes, and on with your dollars to send them over and keep them there and send them forward—forward to Berlin!

Buy Liberty Bonds with every dollar you can possibly spare and then buy more on installments with all you can save in the months to come. Six billion dollars is a vast sum, but it's the least we can do for the boys who are fighting for us. Get back of the Loan—buy more Bonds!

Stop, think and loosen. Buy! Bonds are your RIGHT. Strike the spear from the Hun!

JOIN THE COUPON CLIPPERS

You Will Get Money From Uncle Sam Almost Every Month.

By fixing the interest dates on the Fourth Liberty Loan as April and October 25 of each year, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has made it possible for the new army of Government bondholders to "clip a coupon" in eight of the twelve months of the year. Those subscribers who took the registered form of bond instead of the coupon bond because of its greater security will in the same way receive an interest check from the government in eight months of the year, provided, of course, that they have retained the bonds of the three preceding loans which they bought.

On the first Liberty Loan the interest dates are June and December 25; on the second Liberty Loan they are May and November 15; on the third Liberty Loan, March and September 15, and on the fourth Liberty Loan, April and October 15.

Even if the purchaser of a bond of the first Liberty Loan took advantage of its conversion privilege to secure 4 per cent interest on the second loan, and again converted his bond to secure 4 1/2 per cent interest paid on the third loan the interest dates on the conversion bond which he received for his original bond remain the same.

The evident purpose of Secretary McAdoo naming different interest dates on the four issues of bonds was to divide the physical work of paying the interest and also to distribute the payment of interest over the year instead of having payments concentrated in two months.

On a $9,000,000,000 loan the probable amount of the fourth loan, the annual interest payment at 4 1/2 per cent will be $255,000,000 or $127,500,000 at each semi-annual interest date. Interest charges on the first Liberty Loan, if one-half of the bonds have been converted into 4 1/2s and the balance remain at 3 1/2 per cent is $77,500,000 per annum, on the second loan, if $1,000,000,000 of the original issue is outstanding at 4 1/2 per cent and the remaining $2,800,000,000 converted into 4 1/2s, the annual interest is $150,340,000 and on the third loan of $4,170,000,000 at 4 1/2 per cent the annual interest is $177,750,000, a total for the three loans of $414,000,000, and the coming fourth loan of $9,000,000,000 with its interest charge of $255,000,000 will swell the Government's annual interest payments to $839,250,000, which explains why the interest payments are divided.

MOVIES FOR THE LOAN

Big Stars Play Parts in Thrilling Pictures That Boost Fourth Loan.

The moving picture reels to boost the Fourth Liberty Loan have been prepared largely in consequence of the great success achieved by Douglas Fairbanks' film last spring. The leading stars have prepared scenarios and acted them. Films have been finished by Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, William Hart, Mary Pickford, Dustin Farnum, Pauline Frederick, Geraldine Farrar, Dorothy Gish, Mable Norman, Clara Kimball Young, Norma Talmadge and others.

Two films have already been received in Philadelphia and enough have been completed to insure every exhibitor in this district having opportunity to screen a new Liberty Loan feature each day of the campaign. It has been arranged by the National Liberty Loan Committee that exhibitors will secure these films entirely free of charge.

The first two pictures received are "A Bullet For Berlin," by William S. Hart, and "Kaiser Bill," by Mae Murray. It is said that Mary Pickford's story will be of an unusual nature and will carry a big punch. D. W. Griffith will take personal charge of the filming of the Lillian Gish story and Thomas H. Ince is making a special production in addition to the ones in which his stars are to appear. Reports from the Pacific coast are that the "Patty Buckle" film is a scream. Charlie Chaplin's film is expected to be one thousand feet in length. It will be a "knock-out," but Charlie maintains deep secrecy as to the nature of it.

"A New Service Star"

The United States Government gives you with this new loan opportunity to put a Service Star in your pocketbook. Either your pocketbook will proudly wear that Star, because you lend your money to your Government, or you have a slacker purse.

You are either fighting for your country or you are against it! The slacker purse will buy neither peace nor pleasure.

The slacker purse is an ally of the Hun.

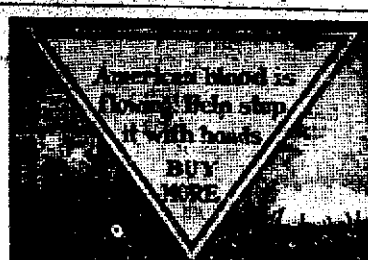

The slacker purse is a traitor. Make your plans now to put a Service Star in your pocketbook. Then you can look at the service flag in your neighbor's window and smile with the knowledge that you have done your duty.

Make sure that in this Fourth Liberty Loan every pocketbook you know has its service star.

See to it that among all your friends and acquaintances there shall be no slacker purses.

Plan to buy bonds with every cent you have and then to buy more on installments with all you can possibly save in the months to come.

We're back of 'em. Show it. This war is not of guns alone! Your share is your UTMOST.

WHAT THE LIBERTY LOAN HAS BOUGHT FOR THE ARMY

From the beginning of the war to June 30, 1918, the last day of the past fiscal year, contracts were placed by the Ordnance Department of the United States totalling $4,300,000,000. The estimate for the current year is over $7,000,000,000. The major items of last year were as follows:

Artillery, $1,050,000,000; automatic rifles, $300,000,000; small arms, $100,000,000; artillery ammunition, $1,900,000,000; small arms ammunition, $340,000,000; small arms ammunition (practice), $80,000,000; stores and supplies (personal, horse, and organization), $230,000,000; armored motor cars, $100,000,000; total, $4,100,000,000.

Some other expenditures by the War Department were $375,000,000 for engineering operations, mostly in France; $37,000,000 for flour, $145,000,000 for sugar, $45,000,000 for bacon, $12,000,000 for beans, $9,000,000 for tomatoes, $2,000,000 for rice, $47,700,000 for rolling kitchens, $127,000,000 for shoes, $565,000,000 for clothing; for blankets, $147,000,000.

Some smaller expenditures were over $600,000 for axes, $1,875,000 for field stores, $2,700,000 for carpenter, and $221,000 for blacksmith tools, $2,500,000 for shovels.

The department has bought 206,000 wagons and carts, costing $37,000,000; and 410,000 horses and mules, costing $90,000,000; food for them cost $62,000,000, and harness $29,000,000.

These are only some of the figures. They seem large, but not so large when it is remembered that we have nearly 2,000,000 men in France and almost as many in training here at home. All of this money and all the other money raised by the Liberty Loans goes to make our Army, our Navy, and our people powerful and victorious in their war for freedom and right.

"We've got the men, we've got the ships, and we've the money, too."

It's your chance to STRIKE. Liberty is cheap at the price! Answer the Hun with Bonds. The boys need MORE guns. Buying Bonds is plain duty! Send this Loan "way over!"

EMERGENCY APPEAL

To Graduate Nurses, Undergraduates and Nurses' Aid.

The division manager of the American Red Cross, at the request of the national bureau of health has directed me to make an urgent appeal to all graduate nurse, undergraduates and nurses' aid within the jurisdiction of this chapter to report for emergency service. Volunteer services are desired, but it is understood that salaries will be paid where needed—in cases where nurses are actually assigned.

This Chapter cannot assign nurses but nurses will help it carry out this direction of the division manager, if they will mobilize for service, and report to the undersigned, as follows:

1. Those who will serve in their home town only.
2. Those who will serve wherever needed.

Where possible groups should be formed composed of one graduate nurse in charge, and four practical nurses or aids.

The matter requires a quick response.

This Store Has the Most Satisfying Collection of Dependable Furs

We make this statement unhesitatingly—and we are rather of the opinion that we are very modest in our statement—because we have rarely, if ever, had a more reliable collection and a wider range of choice of desirable and reliable qualities.

If the war should continue for an indefinite period, it is very doubtful whether furs of this kind will be possible to secure for many years to come—and surely not at present costs. The styles here are very exclusive in design and so carefully made that they will give unquestioned service.
